

An ounce of preparedness equals a pound of peace. Here are two of the Junior American Guard, a new boys' organization, which, with the United States Boy Scouts and the Boys' Brigade, trains thousands of youngsters in the rudiments of military defence for homes and country.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood

Two views of Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, America's pioneer in the fresh air battle against tuberculosis. At his Saranac Lake sanatorium he healed the bodies and spirits of thousands of sufferers; he was their physician and their friend. He died from the malady he gave his life to conquering for humanity.

Photos by Paul Thompson and Theodor H. Bates

The body of Booker T. Washington lying in state at Tuskegee Institute and the funeral procession from the chapel. High and low, black and white, united in paying the last honors to the foremost helper of the negro race.

Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, of Washington, daughter of the late General Logan, who is urging military training for women. Photo by Harris & Ewing, Washington, from Paul Thompson

Some of the women who believe in preparedness, at the Washington conference of the woman's section of the Navy League.

Photo by Harris & Ewing, Washington, from Paul Thompson